Entry Deadline for the application is Tuesday, September 22, 2023. After the deadline, authors will be selected by a committee and notified of their acceptance. Books must be currently in print with copies available for sale at the time of the event. The Books and Brew festival committee reserves the right to limit the number of books included. Applications may be mailed to PO Box 1974, Lawton, 73502. A copy of your book(s) must be sent with your application to be considered. These books will be used for a drawing the day of the event.

I understand that not all applications entered will be accepted for the Author Fest. I also understand that acceptance to the event will be given the week of September 25, 2023. If you have not received an acceptance/rejection notification by October 2, 2023, please contact us.

This is a family oriented event. The Books and Brew festival committee reserves the right to accept or reject any applications at its discretion.

Authors are responsible for selling their own books/have someone with them to handle all sales and are also responsible for collecting and remitting sales tax.

Authors will cover all costs associated with their travel, lodging, meals, sales, business, tax remittance, and any/all other costs associated with their participation.

DAY OF THE EVENT:

Authors must bring everything they need, books, chairs, tables, signs, etc. Authors are asked to complete setup by 11:30 a.m. and begin teardown at 4:00 p.m. All tables must be covered. The event will be held indoors. Booth fee will be $20 to set up and sell your books. The fee will be collected at the time of set-up.

RELEASE OF LIABILITY: I agree to release Lawton Farmers Market & Institute, Lawton Public Library, and the Books and Brew committee from any and all liability, claims and causes of action arising from my participation at the Books & Brew Author Festival on October 15, 2023.
